Highlands Junior High School

EDMONTON, ALBERTA JUNE 30, 1971

Dedication

In appreciation for fourteen years of devoted service to the school, Highlands Junior High dedicates this edition of Optima to Mrs. M.E. Chandler who has always been above all else a "teacher".

NO MAN CAN ROB US . . .

Of the experiences by which we have gained wisdom.

Of the truth that we have proved to ourselves.

Of a strength that comes from a sense of self-respect.

Of the courage that comes from knowing we are right.

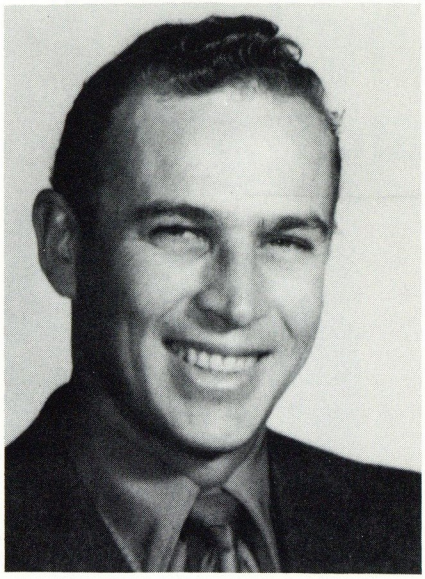
Of the inspiration which comes from friendship.

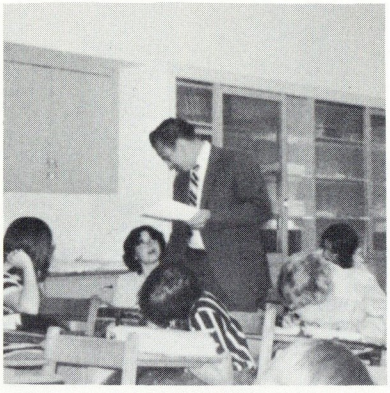
Of the joy that comes from self-mastery.

Of the peace that comes from a clear conscience.

Cultivate these and we shall have priceless treasures throughout life.

Principal's Message





The 1970-71 school year has been a busy and eventful one at Highlands School. We have seen many changes and many improvements in both the program and the facilities. Some of the "improvements include the adoption of a semester system for many electives, the opening of the two newly equipped science rooms, the addition of a potters' wheel and clay kiln in the art department and the newly carpeted classroom area.

These changes have helped to provide a better and more relevent program for the students in our community. We have much, here in Highlands, of which to be proud. When you speak to others about the school, show that pride, Highlands School is one of the best.

Thanks to the staff for a job well done this year and good luck to all who will be graduating or moving before September. To all staff and students, may you have an enjoyable, relaxing summer vacation.

WORKING CONDITIONS

SICKNESS

NO EXCUSE . . . we will no longer accept your doctor's statement of proof, as we believe that if you are able to go to the doctor, you are able to come to work.

DEATH

(Other than your own) This is no excuse. There is nothing you can do for them; and we are sure that someone else with a lesser position can attend to the arrangements. However, if the funeral can be held in the late afternoon, we will be glad to let you off work one hour early, provided that your share of the work is ahead enough to keep the job going in your absence.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

(For an operation) We are no longer allowing this practice. We wish to discourage any thoughts that you may need an operation as we believe as long as you are an employee here, you should not consider having anything removed. We hired you as you are, and to have anything removed would certainly make you less than we bargained for.

DEATH

(Your own) This will be accepted as an excuse, but we would like a two week notice, as we feel it is your duty to teach someone else your job.

MOM I NEEDED YOU

"Would Rita Bell please report to the principal's office," the voice on the intercom demanded.

I slowly rose to my feet and my teacher told me I could go and, as well, to take my books. I walked down two flights of stairs, turned the corner and knocked on the door. The big booming voice from behind it told me to come in. My knees shaking and ready to collapse I crossed the doorway into the principal's office.

"Rita, please sit down. You do know why you are here, don't you?" He stated more than asked.

From somewhere inside of me came the reply. "No Sir, why was I asked to come here", I lied.

"Come now Rita, let's not play games", Mr. Petry answered. "Tell me everything that happened and I'll try to be lenient".

"There's nothing to tell. You may as well expel me and not waste my time and yours," I flatly replied.

"If that's the way you want it Rita, you'll get it that way. I won't expel you but I'm suspending you for two weeks. I hope in that time you'll learn your lesson", he replied back.

As I walked out of his office, resentment and hate welled up inside of me. I realized I'd better think of a good story to tell my parents because if I told them the real reason for being suspended they'd kill me for sure.

As I was walking to my locker the bell rang and the halls were soon filled with students. I looked into my locker to hide my tears. Someone tapped my shoulder and I turned to see who it was.

"Hi Rita, what happened?" enquired my best friend, Anita.

"Oh it was awful, I've been suspended for two weeks. What am I going to tell my mom and dad?" I asked questioningly.

"I don't know", stated Anita, "it's your mess, not mine. You got yourself into it and no one made you".

"Yeah, yeah, I know. Get off my back, will you. You're just like the rest of them".

I slammed my locker door and stormed off. When I need a friend my best friend preaches to me. What a, a, Oh well I better think of a story of why I'm not going to school for two weeks. Maybe Mom and Dad will go away or something. I slowly walked home and when I entered the house I found a note saying:

"Dear Rita,

Dad and I have decided to go to visit your grandmother for a week. We'll phone tonight at 9:00 P.M. Please be home. Love Mom"

Wow, I was in luck. Now all I have to worry about is the last week of my suspension. I started to sing and dance all around the house. I danced my way into the kitchen and made a pizza. After eating I had a bath and went to bed. At nine the phone rang and I jumped to answer it.

"Hello, Mom?" I inquired.

"Yes dear, it's me. I'm sorry I can't talk long but here are your instructions. I want you to clean the house and keep everything in shape. Don't stay out too late, and I'd rather you have someone sleep over. Okay honey", my mother chattered on.

"Yes, mom I will", I answered in a bored voice.

"Well bye for now Rita, please be good".

"Yes mom I will, bye".

"Bye-bye, dear".

I heard the click on the other end of the line and I hung up the phone. What an old bag I thought. She's always like that. Be good now Rita dear. It's her fault I'm in this mess. If she stayed at home and paid attention to me I wouldn't do the things I do. Just once I'd wish she'd pay attention to me. I'm going to tell her why I was suspended. Maybe then she'll realize I'm alive.

LIFE'S STAGE

People come and go
Like actors on a stage,
Life's stage.
Babies wait in the wings
To begin the play;
Old men and women
Take their bows
And exit;
Young people
Read their lines
With hope and confidence,
And continue through the years,
Forgetting some lines,
Remembering most,
Trying new plays,
Finding those that suit
Them best.
A small part
Or perhaps a star role?
Whichever it may be,
They want to be remembered
For the love, hope and confidence
They put into the role.

"Mary had a little lamb" was written by Sarah Josepha Hale in the early nineteenth century. Since then it has been parodied many times.

Mary had a little lamb
She ate it with mint sauce
And everywhere that Mary went
The lamb went too, of course.

TOITY POIPLE BOIDS

Toity poiple boids,
A-sitten' on der coib,
A-choipin' and a-boipin'
And eatin' doity woims.
